Bill

I am wondering if anyone else is embarrassed that the protest on Wellington is expanding. Dozens of new Portapottys and a new stage where they are currently holding a concert.

I am embarrassed for my former profession. And worried for my government which is being made to look very weak and ineffective. I can't believe that I am hoping that Doug Ford will save us

Do you have a minute ?

Yes

@stphnmaher they are certain they're winning (god, I hope they're wrong). Police will arrest but allow people to leave without charges if they sign saying they will not protest again. Organizers say they have tons of replacements to take their place, so they're happy.

An interesting point, if true.
